THE SECRETARY'S REPORT

The Chamberlain House.

A vision fair in rainbow sheen;
A thought, a wish, a happy dream;
Then, touched by love and gold,
It changed to wood and stone,
The Cousins' Home!

The great event this year is the acquiring of the Chamberlain House.

The whole assembly of Cousins smiled in 1903 when A. B. Clark spoke of a home for the Society, a regular place of meeting, and a safe place in which to deposit records and mementoes of the missionaries. Yet through the generosity of a dear departed Cousin, the records are already stored in the stone office of the Old Mission Home, and by means of later gifts this larger, insect-proof, fire-proof building is now assured.

A meeting of the Board of Managers was called by the president, G. R. Carter, for Dec. 13, 1909, at which a paper was read, stating that through the generosity of the Chamberlain heirs, of the sons of C. M. Cooke in memory of their father, and of B. R. Banning, the old Chamberlain property had been bought and deeded to the Society.

It was also stated that the Castles had secured the frame house adjoining the coral building and transferred it to the Cousins, thus making it possible to straighten Kawaiahao lane and to throw a part of the property into Kawaiahao church yard.

Plans were submitted for the renovation of the building, showing the assembly room, stairway, dressing-room, pantry and kitchen below; and above the museum and library. The veranda is to be taken away, leaving the front with its stone steps as originally built. All outside improvements will be made at the back, where a lanai will extend from the coral house to the stone office. Only the money for this refitting is now wanting.

Mr. Warren Chamberlain and Mr. Levi have each written papers full of historical facts and interesting incidents. The former is given in full.

Incidents, Recollections, Reminiscences, Etc., Connected with the Erection and Building of the Coral Stone House
at Kawaiahao, Honolulu, Known as the Chamberlain House.

Becoming interested in religious concerns, Mr. Levi Chamberlain withdrew from trade and began to study for the Gospel Ministry, entering the Theological Seminary at Andover, Mass., where he continued between one and two years until prevailed upon to assist Jeremiah Evarts, Esq., the Treasurer of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in Boston, Mass., being thus employed from 1819 to Nov. 1822, assisting at the Missionary Rooms, and aiding, while there, the first missionaries for the Sandwich Islands.

In the year 1822 he sailed from New Haven, Conn., with the first re-inforcement for the Mission; among them being Revs. A. Bishop, James Ely, Joseph Goodrich, Wm. Richards, and C. S. Stewart, who arrived at Honolulu, April 27, 1823.

From this time forward his place of permanent residence was at Honolulu, where, at first, he was a teacher of the native people, also helping the missionaries when they wrote to him for aid in obtaining supplies, and other general business; occasionally going to the windward Islands, as desired.

On the arrival of the third large party, in 1828, the duties of the Secular Superintendent were much increased. His residence at Honolulu, during the earlier years, was in native grass houses located near the present site of the Castle Memorial Kindergarten edifice on King street.

He was married to Miss Maria Patton at Lahaina, Maui, Sept. 1st, 1828, by Rev. Lorrin Andrews of the same party that came in the month of March, that year. Bringing his wife to Honolulu they lived in thatched houses constructed by natives, while the coral stone house was being erected.

The material of this house was obtained from the reef seaward, being cut out by natives in blocks of the required size with axes supplied for that purpose, and it was current among the people that a new axe could be had in exchange for one that had been otherwise in use for some time, its edge thereby being blunted, so making it more suitable for working in the coral stone.

The transportation of the large blocks, cut out and prepared to the required size at the reef, were carried by men on their shoulders by means of ropes and a pole, or shoulder-stick, so inserted that two strong natives could lift and convey between them the burden for a long distance, as was their ordinary method before the introduction of bullock and wheel conveyances.

A deep and large pit was excavated not far from the house for a lime kiln. The stone was brought from the seaside in containers upon the shoulders of men; and when layers of wood, cut from the mountain forest, or wherever obtainable, had been placed in suitable quantity, the stones to be burned for the lime were spread over and heaped upon the fuel to a considerable height above. The center pole was withdrawn and fire communicated to the deepest part of the pit by throwing in live coals to reach the light combustibles at the bottom, from whence the entire mass of fuel was in time burned up, the heat therefrom reducing the stones resting above to the required lime for mortar.

It is believed that preparations for collecting stones and other material for this house was begun in 1828, and that the years 1829 and 1830 were given to its slow progress of construction. It is known that the two eldest sons were born in grass houses in the years 1829, 1831 respectively. The third child, a daughter, was the first one born in the new edifice, the year being 1832, which is also believed to be the year of its completion.

Its length is $56\frac{1}{2}$ feet and its width 27 feet, outside. Above a cellar, of about the same dimensions, which was used for general storage; in the middle of the house, was located the parlor, or reception room. It was eighteen feet in length and twenty-three feet in width, the ceiling or height from the floor being eight feet and five inches. It was the intention of Mr. C. to have had this nine feet and over, but while he was away for a time at the windward islands, the mechanic in charge of the work made the mistake to give the rooms above a height of nine feet and over, thus shortening the space below. Two doors, one on each side, gave entrance from the outside. The two rooms mauka of the parlor were the bed-room and lavatory of our parents, the bed-room being 16 x 13 feet. The lavatory was smaller. A stairway on the lower side of it gave ascent to the two rooms of the daughters on the second story. Under the stairway were closets.

The dining-room was next to the parlor on the seaward side. It was twenty-three feet in length and twelve feet, ten inches in width. Two doors opened from it to the yards outside. A third door opened to the kitchen, which was a coral stone building of two stories at right angles to the main building, having a stairway on the outside leading to a door which admitted to the bed-room over the kitchen. The dimensions of the cooking apartment was, in length about 18 feet and a width of about $13\frac{1}{2}$ feet. A small side-room or pantry opens on the "mauka" side. The old-time fireplace with its fixtures; the brick oven also, with other arrangements as in use eighty years ago, can still be seen, not to mention the chimney.

On the second floor were two bed-rooms occupied by the daughters, each room being sixteen feet in length and fourteen and nine feet in width respectively, with windows on the King street side and one on the East and West sides. Over the parlor were two bed-rooms, each being sixteen feet in length, and twelve feet and eleven feet width respectively, where visitors and missionaries were accommodated. Over the dining-room was a large room used for the storage of opened dry-goods, before the erection of a separate depository in the "makai" yard. There was a business desk placed on the west side by the wall of this room and a row of shelves was fixed above where files of correspondence and letters were placed for preservation and reference. It was a working place that would accommodate a person in feeble health. A large door opened out of this room on the seaward side, through which by blocks and tackle that were attached to a strong timber extending out from the roof, boxes and heavy packages were drawn up from the outside to be placed in storage. The garret was reached from the second floor by a stairway, its area being the length and breadth of the house, where light goods and packages were stored. At times of unusual company and crowding, young men and boys were known to have slept here at night, their bedding being spread on mats laid on the floor.

A coral stone wall surrounded the yard of this house, being seven and one-half feet, more or less, in height, in order to keep the place "kapu" to the natives, and the children from undue familiarity with them. Before the eldest two sons left for America, in 1836, there was no separating fence between this place and that occupied by the Bingham family adjacent. Among early recollections, unclad native men, squatted on the earth, with scant clothing over their shoulders, who had come with a "manao" to see the minister, was not infrequent; and companies of people at times of religious interest would collect in the rear of their house, forcing some into the next yard.

The front entrance from King Street in the earlier times was by a gate from the street, and a pathway that led directly to the parlor door on the east side of the stone house. In later times this entrance was walled up and a gate and pathway made from King street extending to the veranda door of the reception room on the west side. Originally there were no verandas to the house. The later arrangement was made by Mrs. C. after the property was transferred to her personally, by the A. B. C. F. M. in the Fifties or early Sixties.

An adobe house, thatched with native "pili" grass was built in the front yard and was used for the accommodation of guests and sojourners. It was occupied at times by Rev. Asa Thurston and his wife, when in Honolulu from their station at Kailua, Hawaii; also, we recall, by Rev. Samuel Whitney and his wife of Waimea, Kauai, who was a good and warm friend of Mr. C., whose mother was of that name. Mr. Whitney's son, Henry M., made his first home here on his return to Honolulu, in 1850. Their first child, Hervey, was born in this house.

A second accommodation house was built in the "makai" yard, and was used by a member of the family and afforded a place of abode when he was in town from his country place.

Two wells of water, somewhat brackish, furnished requirements as needed for the kitchen and also for bathing and other purposes. The water being hard, made laundry work irksome, but it was accomplished in some way. Coolers were used for making the water more drinkable. But the house-lady, Mrs. Chamberlain, possessed the skill to use this water in making, with scalded milk and Kona coffee, a drink so good that the guests gave much credit and praise to her and reputation to her table. The first well was adjacent to the kitchen, supplying also a bathing-house near. The second well was in the front yard, its location being now marked by a mound of earth planted over with flowers and so forth.

A large "hau" tree with bright yellow flowers was early noticeable in the yard, and a fine "Pride of India" by the west corner of the house was an ornament to the place. A very large algaroba tree near the Mission cemetery, having been more than half a century in its present position, is noticeable as an old-timer, being perhaps the first planted in that yard. A stately old tamarind tree is here in its glory laden yearly with its fruit-pods, tempting many of the street youths to scale the present wall and appropriate to themselves all that they are able to secure. Two large mango trees of forty years' growth or more, still remain producing superior-flavored fruit. The black lava sand proves a congenial soil for the growth of a variety of fruit-bearing and ornamental trees. Before the arrival of insect pests, fig trees producing their fruit were seen. But little attention was given by the labor-driven housekeeper to such things as flowers and fruits at "The Mission."

The food at the Mission House in the early days, other than that imported, as flour, etc., was largely of "kalo" and its products, sweet potatoes, and notably, for the children, arrowroot, which was called "Pia." Mrs. Chamberlain, being a lady of experience, made from the flour that came from America, bread, cakes, etc., satisfying young and old. A supply of milk was daily obtained from a herd of cows that were kept at the Mission. The boys, with the rising of the sun, were to be found at the cow-yard, engaged as their first duty, obtaining the needed fluid for themselves and their parents' families.

Quite frequent were the arrivals at the Chamberlain House, of missionaries and others from the neighboring islands, to make a longer or a shorter stay. It was the mission house; its agent resided there, and from him assistance and supplies were to be obtained. Not only missionaries, but travellers and friends of the missionary, were recommended as being homelike. A ship-master accompanied by his wife on a whaling cruise would leave her here, for a summer at the Arctic, to return in the Autumn feeling that she was with Christian friends in the meanwhile.

At the time of General Meeting when the missionaries assembled to attend their yearly gathering for consultation and business the mission families at Honolulu received and entertained associates from the other islands; among the number of old missionaries remembered as received at their house by Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, were the venerable pioneers, Revs. Asa Thurston of Hawaii and Samuel Whitney of Kauai and their wives. Mr. Whitney was called by some of the family "Uncle"; Mr. Chamberlain's mother having that name before marriage. The influence of Mr. Whitney with a whale-ship captain secured the passage of Mr. C.'s two eldest sons with him in 1836, to New London, Conn., in charge of a Rev. Mr.

Parker, who had engaged passage home in the ship Phenix, Capt. Allen. He had come to these Islands from Oregon, having been sent by the A. B. C. F. M. over the Rocky Mountains to make a report relative to missionary work among the Indians at the N. W. Coast and to return. After reaching the coast and making an examination, Mr. Parker concluded not to recross the mountains but come to these Islands and voyage by sea home: accordingly he arrived at the Mission House, Honolulu, and was received by Mr. C. to await sailing. On a certain day, at dinner, the Captain being present, as also Mr. Whitney, it was brought forward that the two little boys be taken along with Mr. Parker to New England. The Captain declined, stating that the vessel had not fitting accommodations. It was then suggested that a place be constructed in the cabin, between the two windows, or openings, in the stern for light, and the ladder, or steps, that led to the deck. Mr. Whitney then said to him that if he would take the boys that way, in charge of Mr. Parker, he would give him all the sweet-potatoes he wished, also goats and other things, if he would sail around by his place at Waimea, Kauai. This moved the Master and he gave consent. He did not, however, sail that way. Our father, when the ship sailed, went outside the reef to see us off. The ship's boat took him and the pilot back to the landing in Honolulu. The mate reports that he wept all the way coming in. His grief was great; his sons were but five and seven years of age respectively. As recollection now serves, when in the rough and stormy seas rounding Cape Horn, on a certain day, a monster wave came in under the stern, dashed through the windows, swept over the boys in their place of abode, filling the cabin and requiring for the next night that they share a berth with one of the mates.

Rev. E. Bond, of Kohala, made this house his home when in Honolulu. At General Meeting time he came in company with his daughter, now the mother of the family of the late James Bicknell, formerly a missionary of the Marquesas Islands, who returned and entered the ministry on Hawaii. Mr. Bond was a person of much ability and energy, who proved to be a desirable and entertaining associate and friend, accomplishing as a missionary much for the good and welfare of the Hawaiians.

Rev. J. D. Paris, of Kona, is remembered as frequently at the old Chamberlain House. At a time of extraordinary volcanic action in the region of their place of residence, the movement of the earth beneath their abode was so terrific, attended with explosions and noises, that they came to rest from the disturbance, at Honolulu, the old coral stone house of Mrs. Chamberlain at the Mission receiving them until abatement of the "pilikia."

Mr. Abner Wilcox and his able and energetic wife from Waioli, Kauai, were pleasant friends, who, when in Honolulu from time to time, made a tarrying at Mrs. Chamberlain's accommodating house.

The Rev. D. B. Lyman, of Hilo, and members of his family may be mentioned as often being at home at the old stone house.

Many others could be recalled who could claim hospitality at this notable old place, "and have their claims allowed." The death of a father or mother of a family requiring the return of the sorrowing survivor with children to the United States, would bring them here, where they awaited the sailing of the vessel that was to take them "home." So, too, with the Micronesian Missionaries coming and going; they stopped at the old stone house at the Mission until again afloat upon the sea.

Breakfast over, the partakers at once adjourned to the reception room, where they took seats in a wide circle around; a copy of the New Testament was handed to each one present; a verse of Scripture was read by one after another in succession; then perhaps a hymn or psalm was sung, followed by a prayer made by someone of the company, and then the other duties and work of the day was in order.

On Wednesday evenings this large reception room was righted by lamps filled with whale-oil, chairs were placed for those who came from the neighborhood and from the town, when "He who is mighty to save" and to bless, was importuned for the fulfillment of His promise of love, mercy, grace and truth; and songs of praise ascended to the "Adorable Three in One." Many Christian people have bowed themselves before God in that room, and "He was known for a refuge there."

In the early times, before water had been brought down from the mountain streams and irrigation established, it was possible to take in a view from the garret windows of the Chamberlain House across the wide and dusty plain to Punahou and beyond, with hardly a house or a tree to intervene. On the seaward side and toward Diamond Head were salt marshes in which rushes thrived and gave much support to Mission cows. The height of the house made the lookout from the "mauka" windows, and from the guarded door which was on the seaward side, to be continually visited to see the incoming of sailing craft approaching the harbor or leaving it, and to learn the class of vessels, whether national, merchant, whaling, island or other, and to be made aware of the country represented by its flag, and other information to be obtained by means of Mr. Chamberlain's large spy-glass.

The youthful members of the household were afforded entertainment and excitement in viewing the towing into the harbor of vessels through the passageway in the reef, by long lines of dusky native men, with the aid of oxen in connection as they increased in numbers for draft upon the Islands. Very large merchant and war vessels came to anchor and remained outside the reef ordinarily. The boats of the war vessels were in the daytime continually passing from their position outside to the landing in the harbor. The towing of the vessels was ordinarily in the morning before the trade wind came from the valley and hills at the north-east. This was usually accomplished before ten o'clock of the day.

When the whale-ship fleet visited the port of Honolulu, in the latter part of the year, in large numbers, to be paid off and a change made in the crews, it was a striking scene from the look-out of this house to see so many of these vessels, standing off and on upon the ocean outside, and also to see the harbor with its forests of masts that the whaling craft presented, crowded together as they were in the early Fifties.

In the afternoons, particularly Saturdays, the horseback riding and racing of sailors from the fleet, coursing along King street, passing this old house with drunken cries, shouts and yells, while it might, perhaps, add to the excitement of lookers-on to see and hear the riot, hardly impresses the beholder that here indeed is shown a fair view of the "Paradise of the Pacific."

In March, 1851, the oldest of the sons of the late Mr. Levi Chamberlain returned to the old home after thirteen years in America; the Secular Superintendent of the Mission proposed that he engage in work under him in the Depository and stay in Honolulu with his mother and her family; this he declined, having acquired a desire for agricultural occupation in the States, he chose to make a trial, being able to buy some land for the purpose.

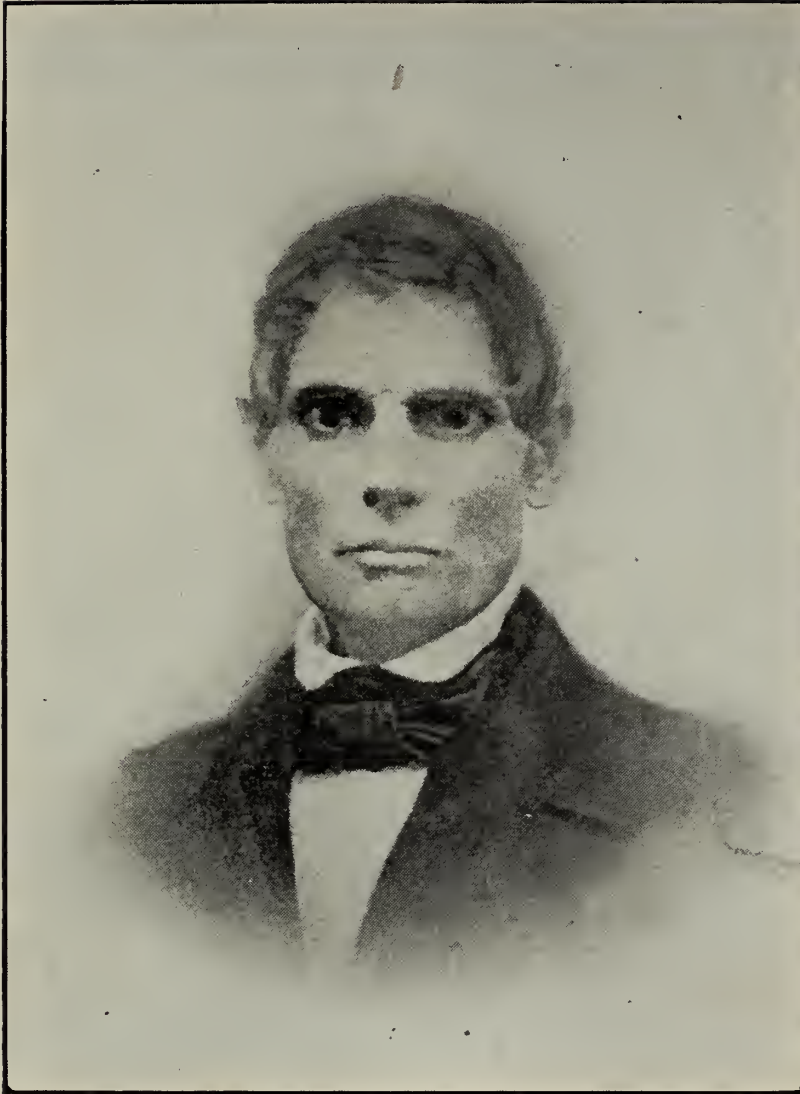

We may introduce here, to illustrate the manner in which the missionaries of those early days refused to improve their opportunities to acquire land, the following incident which may be of interest: Early in the year 1851, while in company with Rev. J. S. Emerson, of Waialua, and a Hawaiian sub-chief by the name of Ukeke, a representative to the Legislative Assembly at that time from Koulauloa; on passing around the north side of the Island, this man communicated to Mr. Emerson that a certain land, through which we were then riding, had been given, by the former Queen Kaahumanu, to Mr. Levi Chamberlain while on one of his periodical tours of examining and inspecting schools, of which he was the Superintendent of the Islands; the Queen, with a retinue of her subjects from Honolulu accompanying to attest the Royal approval and recommend "Ka Palapala," or learning, to her subjects. Mr. Chamberlain respectfully declined the proffered present of land, stating, in effect, that his coming to Hawaii nei was for the purpose of teaching the people as to the true God, and the light that comes through the possession of His Word, and not for any personal aggrandizement. It is said that though repeatedly solicited to reconsider, Mr. Chamberlain held to his purpose, avoiding even to have the subject mentioned. The time when this occurrence transpired is regarded to have been late in the Twenties.

It was in the year 1863, if our recollection is correct, that the American Board of Foreign Missions, in Boston, Mass., made some important changes at these Islands regarding their missionaries here, giving the houses occupied by them, and the land appertaining, to all who consented to locate in the country. The Foreign Secretary of the A. B. C. F. M. was sent to put the plan into effect, and the Rev. Rufus Anderson, D. D., arrived, accompanied by his wife and daughter, and came to the old stone Chamberlain House, which they made as headquarters. During this time they visited the various stations of the Mission accomplishing the work.

It was when passing from Kau to Hilo, Hawaii, a few years later, in the late Sixties, the writer remembers stopping at the Volcano House of Kilauea, an unpretentious and limited accommodation place at that time, where a blank Record Book was found, being the first of a number that have followed during, perhaps, fifty years, in which, as our recollection serves, it was stated in its Introduction, was "Presented by Rev. O. H. Gulick," then a missionary preacher in Kau, Hawaii, requesting visitors to make a memorandum or writing in the book of such condition or changes at the Crater as was particularly observable at the time, as seen by them. It is now more than forty years since that book was seen by me, and the only writing that I can recall, other than the introduction of the donor, is that of our visitor at the old stone Chamberlain House at Honolulu, our father's friend at the Missionary Rooms in Boston in the year 1820, or a little later. "Great and marvelous are Thy works, Lord God Almighty. Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? For thou only art holy; for all nations shall come and worship before Thee, for Thy judgments are made manifest," Rev. xv, 3, 4.

Mr. Levi Chamberlain's health was never robust, being taken with bleeding from the lungs when about nineteen years old. The climate of Hawaii was favorable to his complaint, yet he made voyages to Mazatlan, Mexico, China, and to New England, in the Forties, in search of betterment, returning to Hawaii in 1847, where with increasing debility he continued until 1849. His gravestone in the Mission Cemetery, sent through the A. B. C. F. M., bears the inscription "In Memory of Levi Chamberlain, for 26 years a Secular Agent of the Sandwich Islands Mission, in the service of the A. B. C. F. M., who died July 29, 1849, aged 56 years, 11 months, Trusting in Jesus Christ for Salvation."

From Levi Chamberlain's interesting paper, also prepared by request, we have space for only those items not mentioned in his brother's paper, and those of a later date, which fill in a space of which we had no record.

"The house was occupied," says Mr. Chamberlain, "in 1832, and the first member of the family born on the premises was Mrs. Maria J. Forbes, in April of that year. It is most probable that it required several years to build it. There were no facilities for drawing stone in those days except by hand, therefore much time must have elapsed before all the stone was on hand to complete it. Again it required time to get all the lumber and shingles which had to come around Cape Horn. As it was a matter of accommodation only that whale-ships should take any freight . . . they would, of course, take only small lots of lumber, and it required several vessels to bring sufficient for the house. Also, mechanics and carpenters were not abundant, and one or two competent men, mason and carpenter, probably had a long job at the work.

The lumber, however, of the house, and of all old Mission buildings, was of the best character, being of white pine which came from the State of Maine. The lumber of the house has remained in place now, very close to eighty years, and is damaged and deteriorated, not so much from age as from the ravages of ants and insects which have gotten into and multiplied upon these Islands during the past fifteen or twenty years.

Over the parlor, the room on the Ewa side was my father's business room, opening into the one on the Waikiki side, which was occupied by Mr. Castle, who kept the books. In this room were two small single beds, occupied at night by the two younger boys of the family, the eldest two being in the U. S.

The room over the kitchen was occupied by Mr. E. O. Hall, whose business was to fill orders, and who had access to the whole house, from the garret, where all light goods, tinware, crockery, etc., were opened, to the cellar, containing the molasses barrel, the whale-oil for lamps, the lumber pile and the unopened goods of the mission.

Mr. Hall was taken into the business department after his return from the Oregon Mission, and was found to be the right man. Mr. J. P. Atherton filled such a position afterward, in the employ of Castle & Cooke."

OUR MISSIONARIES.

(Quotations from the Ninth Annual Report of the Nauru Mission.)

The event of the year was the dedication of our new House of Worship. In January, 1909, we tore down part of the native church, repaired the rest, and use it now as a school-house. We then decided not to ring our large bell until the beautiful new church edifice would be completed. Our Sabbath morning services were held beneath the trees in the interior of the island near the world-renowned lagoon. The conc-shell was used during these months to call the people to worship. It was grand to conduct worship in the bush, but it was rather far from the mission.

Early on Sabbath morning, March 28, 1909, it seemed as if the whole native population had turned out to rejoice with us in dedicating our House of Prayer. The church, newly painted and decorated for the occasion, looked pretty, and our hearts began to beat fast when we saw the throng waiting for the doors to be opened. How anxious the people were to get in, and how orderly they were! At half-past nine o'clock the first bell rang and the doors were opened. It took the united forces of Mrs. Delaporte, Miss Linke, and our seven deacons to seat the people. There were present Chinese, natives from Kusaie, Pinglop, Mokil, Ponope, Truk, Mortlock and the Marshall Islands, and Nauru natives—perhaps 1,100 human beings. All had come to thank God for His goodness. The Governor, Representatives of the Pacific Phosphate Company, Ltd., and Jaluit Company, and a number of other ladies and gentlemen were present too. What other island in Micronesia could furnish such a mixed congregation?

A choir of 112 voices sang the hymns of the day, while the writer told the story of the Nauru mission in three languages—Nauru, English and German. We believe that many dedicated themselves anew to the Lord that morning. After Miss Linke's solo we took up the last offering for the building. We knew that it would be almost an impossibility for the people to give more on account of the drought, but as we counted the money we found we had received 657 marks. Just think of it, and think again, a congregation of natives on a coral island gives, in a single collection 657 marks, or $165! The white gentlemen very kindly contributed 195 marks, or $47.50. We praise the Lord for being able to dedicate the church free from debt, for with the especial donation of $500, we had the $602, and a balance of $109.75 to apply toward liquidating the debt on the Mission buildings. Hallelujah!

A new feature of the Sabbath service is a special service for the Caroline Islanders, conducted in the afternoon by the missionaries. The average attendance at this meeting is about 100. The attendance at our public Sabbath morning service was about the same as in 1908, varying from 500 to 1,100.

Twenty persons, including five Caroline Islanders, were admitted into fellowship during the year, while twenty-one Nauru members died. One of them was the most earnest and faithful Christian woman of the land, E. Dagabo.

The health of the Island during 1909 was fairly good. But still nearly two thousand patients were treated for dysentery and other diseases. All severe cases were sent to the Government Physician, but it is hard to induce the people to go to the doctor, though he is an excellent man and very kind to the people and has effected many notable cures. Mrs. Delaporte does most of the dispensary work and nursing, and the people have much confidence in her. The dispensary is a heavy drain on our resources, as medicines are very expensive in Australia. We very often have to feed ten or more patients, as the people have no suitable food at present, because of the drouth from which the island has suffered for the past few years. All festivities on Christmas were omitted on account of the drought. The rainy season is supposed to begin in November and last till April. Last year it failed us, and at the time of writing this report the drought still continues.

On Sept. 9th, our youngest child, Frank Gustave, was called to his heavenly home. Little Frank was but seven days ill with Tropical Dysentery. A Nauru chief said to us, "Your work in Nauru is thus sealed with a little grave in our very own soil." Early in December five young people died in one night, having partaken of a poisoned shark. We did what we could to save their lives but without success. On Jan. 11, 1910, an epidemic of complicated influenza began its reign. By the end of January thirty-eight people had died, but at this time, Feb. 3rd, the epidemic seems to have disappeared.

Our Sabbath School is at present in charge of Mrs. Delaporte. A good spirit prevails among the children and they are very attentive. Even small children from far-away districts attend. We consider the Sabbath School one of the most important departments of our work. We were glad to receive, regularly, the S. S. Picture Rolls which the Rev. O. H. Gulick of Honolulu kindly sent us. They are a great help. When quite through with a roll, the pictures are given to the people, who decorate their homes with them. Nearly 100 children under fourteen years of age are enrolled in the Sabbath School.

The Christian Endeavor Society held its meetings without intermission throughout the year. Three young people were admitted as active members, making a total of twenty-four active and one hundred and eleven associate members.

In the Boys' Training School, six boys and young men receive an education with a view of making local teachers out of them. Two are post-graduates and assist already in the day-schools. Two or three will soon be married, and are then ready for the field. We propose to keep one at the main station and send the others to the out-stations. These boys do all the printing and book-binding for the mission. They are kept very busy from early morning till late in the evening. Saturday afternoon is given up to sport and play.

The Orro Day-School is the principal school. Twenty-five pupils graduated in the past year. But graduates are expected to attend singing and Bible classes for a couple of years yet. Lessons are held daily from nine to twelve o'clock, except on Mondays. The mission maintains three village schools in addition to the Orro station. The Manan Village School is in a flourishing condition since Miss Linke has assumed its leadership. Perhaps forty small children attend. Miss Linke is not at all strong and must soon take a vacation of several months, in Australia. She leaves us early in February. One of the young men in the Training School will take care of the Menan School during her absence. The Anabare and Ewa village schools are still in charge of our teacher, Joseph Auwobo.

The Mission Press, since its establishment in 1906, has turned out 433,825 printed pages. During the past year more than 500 copies of the new Hymn-book were printed. The Psalms, Genesis, and Exodus are about ready for the press, and we hope to begin printing these books in 1910. We hope to publish, shortly, a combined History and Geography.

In July, the Pacific Phosphate Co.'s new steamer, "Ocean Queen," arrived from England. She had on board that good friend of our mission, John T. Arundel, Esq., accompanied by Miss Whibley and the Misses Arundel. We enjoyed their visit very much.

As the "Ocean Queen" was to make a round trip from here to Honolulu, Mr. Arundel kindly offered to take any goods the Honolulu friends might want to ship to Nauru on board at his own private expense. Many of our Honolulu friends availed themselves of this opportunity, and perhaps $500 worth of necessary supplies were put on board the "Ocean Queen." Early in September the good ship with its precious cargo sailed for Ocean Island and Nauru via Makatea. However, on her arrival at Makatea, the fine ship struck a reef and seven hours later went down in 200 fathoms of water. We praise our Heavenly Father that no lives were lost. Nothing belonging to us could be saved except a bundle containing some cakes which our children in Honolulu had sent us, one pair of shoes and a cushion belonging to a donkey-cart. A donkey, consigned to us, was safely got ashore, and Mr. A. obtained a good home for him in Makatea. Mr. Arundel again showed his generosity by promising to send another donkey. We furthermore received a substantial check from him to help us to replace part of our lost stores."

In March, Mrs. Delaporte, with her two little children, arrived in Honolulu. She remained only till April 2nd, when she sailed again to her husband, her people and her arduous work, leaving behind her little Mabel with her sister and brother at Castle Home.

Rev. and Mrs. Channon.

Rev. Delaporte writes, "Early in May, our good friends, Rev. and Mrs. Channon, came over from Ocean Island. Mr. Channon, just recovering from two severe attacks of Island Fever, was on his way to Sydney for a change of climate. However we had the pleasure of having Mrs. Channon and children with us for several weeks."

We are indebted to Captain Bray for many items of news from Micronesia, also to Mrs. J. P. Cooke for news from Miss Hoppin. Capt. Bray says:

Miss Wilson is now with her sister in Sonoma, Calif. She was on Kusaie ten years the last time. Her back was injured at the time of the hurricane that destroyed the school-house and buildings. She expressed her doubts, when she passed through Honolulu, of ever being able to return to Kusaie. Her physician in California informs her that the injury is of so long standing that he has doubts of any permanent recovery.

She informed us that Mr. Bowker is now at Kusaie, building their new houses. They thought of having concrete, but later decided on another wooden structure which they will have well anchored and buttressed, as a special protection against hurricanes. They are also considering some kind of a hurricane cellar, or dug-out, as a place of refuge when houses blow away. She stated that the Islands had well recovered from the last storm, and everything was growing well and bountifully. They are not feeling the necessity of a special missionary vessel, since regular steamers with good accommodations will take them back and forth comfortably and quickly and at much less cost than the expenses of keeping a regular missionary packet.

Miss Olin wrote in May, 1909, that "the press" had been lying at Butaritari for about four months. She told of the epidemic of dysentery both among the natives and in the school. Seven of the natives had died, but she and the girls in school had recovered. Miss Wilson had her hands full, she says, caring for her and the girls, and the natives coming from the outside to get medicine.

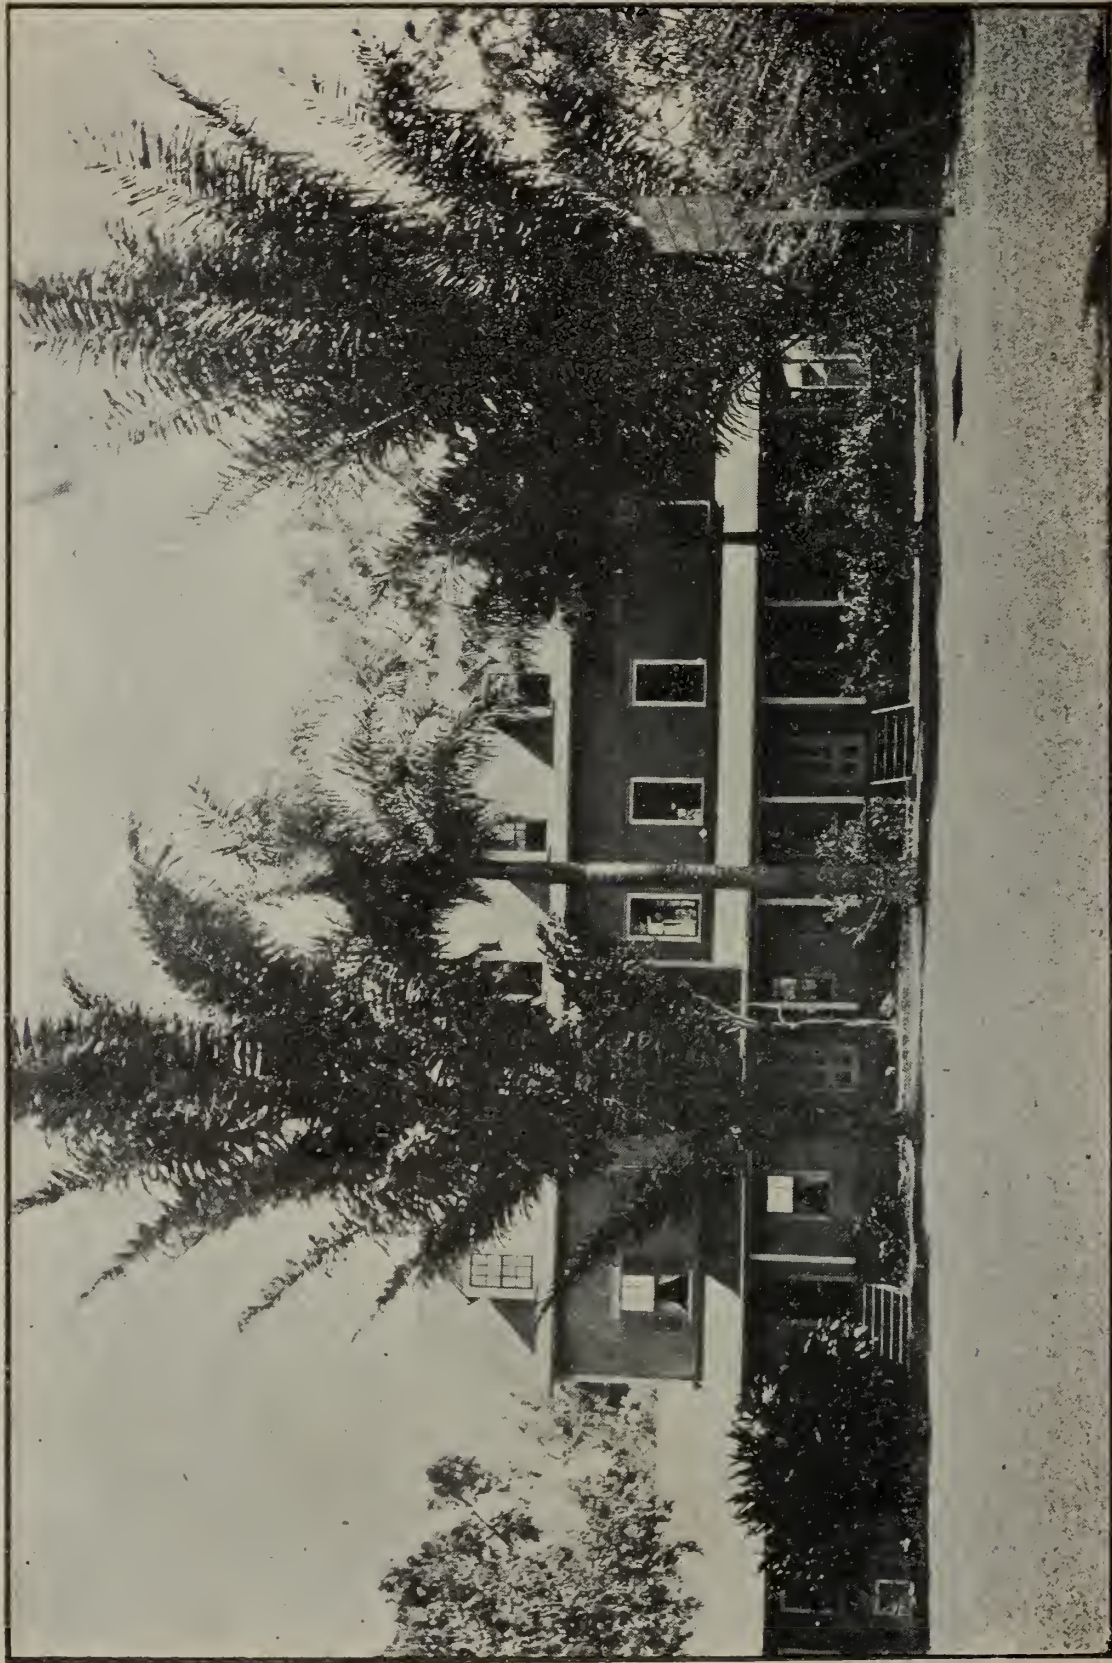

Miss Hoppin writes that Miss Olin was at the point of death for some days and that seventeen of the girls were very ill. At this critical time letters were sent from Kusaie which induced the A. B. C. F. M. to urge her (Miss H.) to return to Kusaie. She did not even have time to have her clothes laundered, but started with no preparation for Hong Kong, from which place she took the steamer for Kusaie. She was two months on the way. She found Miss Olin better but not strong, and needing to go immediately to Hong Kong to have some dentistry attended to. While Miss Olin was away Miss Wilson was very ill, so ill that they thought they would have to go to Sydney with her. When the steamer came back from Hong Kong, Miss Olin returned, and Miss Marian Wells, the new helper, arrived. This left Miss Wilson and herself free to go. When they reached the Gilberts Miss Wilson was better and continued alone to Australia, and Miss Hoppin was camping on the islands for two months, till the return of the steamer. She had a room at the "Presidency" where she slept and kept her luggage. She cooked out of doors and ate from a bread-fruit leaf, and spent most of the days and evenings with the natives, teaching the children. Her special object in visiting these islands now is to arrange for island tours for the girls. She had succeeded in making very satisfactory terms for a tour of the Marshall Islands with the school, and hopes to plan for a trip around the Gilberts.

Rev. Captain A. C. Walkup, as he stood on the deck of the Hiram Bingham, at Alakea wharf on Dec. 8, 1908, will long be remembered. The voyage to the Gilbert Islands, with his children, must have been a pleasant one, and the delivering of the precious freight to those waiting people was surely a joy. But when he sent his children home, by way of Sydney, said "Good-bye" to the friends on Ocean Island, and set sail again with nine natives for Butaritari, it required the greatest bravery to face the sea and the years of lonely toil to which he seemed to be called.

But those years of loneliness were crowded into a few days, for on May 4, while Capt. Walkup was below, a storm arose and the little vessel lay on its beam ends. Having extricated a little boat, a few cocoanuts and a tin of dried apples, they had hopes of being able to pull the forty miles to Butaritari. But after long and hard labor with two little oars, with a yard or two of calico on an oar for a sail, and not sighting land, they realized that the currents had drifted them away, and they gave up hope.

Mr. Walkup instructed his companions, should he not live, and any of them should reach shore, how they should carefully eat and drink in order to recover. Miss Wilson says that Ebon, on May 25th, was the first and only land they sighted, and here they were rescued by some fishermen. About midnight on May 29th he passed away and was buried the next day in the presence of the whole population of the island.

Miss Wilson reports that "His works do follow him, inasmuch as the manner of his death for their sakes, has seemed to so deeply impress his Gilbert Island people, that it has resulted in a great awakening among them, and quite a revival in religious matters is the result.

Rev. Delaporte says, "Micronesia misses this earnest missionary. He was a grand man, leading a lonely life among the desolate coral reefs of the Gilbert group. Those who knew him best will miss him most."

Dr. Scudder says, "Mr. Walkup was a devoted missionary, rugged, brave, open-hearted, unthinking of self, a true crusader. His task was hard and thankless. It would be difficult to conceive a lonelier work or one of greater self-denial or unattractiveness. But he loved it for its unloveliness, had no conception of his own heroism, did his duty as his greatest privilege, endured to the very end, and has gone to his reward."

Capt. Bray says, "Certainly his place can never be filled, and I believe no Micronesian missionary has ever done a better or more faithful work for his Master."

OUR SCHOOLS.

Last year a brief sketch of Maunaolu was given in the Report, and previously Lahainaluna and Hilo Boarding School came in for special mention. This year, in reply to a request for information, Mr. E. C. Bond kindly furnishes the following in regard to the origin and history of Kohala Girls' School:

"It is my impression that the school had its origin in the demand of the time for schools that would give to Hawaiian girls a higher and broader education than was available at the public schools, and probably in an acceptance of the adage 'that the character of a nation depends largely on the character of the mothers.'

The building operations must have begun about the middle of the year 1874. It will be noted that this was previous to the passage of the Reciprocity Treaty, consequently previous to the time of prosperity which followed that event. Money was scarce, and mechanics were not readily secured. A carpenter was found to undertake the building, but the work must be pushed, and with characteristic force, Rev. Elias Bond, at that time pastor of the native church and founder of the school, devoted his unstinted energies, body and soul, from early dawn till darkening hours of the evening, to the speedy accomplishment of the work in the capacity of laboring mechanic and overseer, in a manner that at his advanced age seriously injured and permanently undermined his health.

The school opened Dec. 1st, 1874, with Miss E. W. Lyons, who had been teaching in the Hilo Boarding School, as Principal. One assistant teacher and Rev. S. C. Luhiau as assistant in charge of the manual labor department, which at that time consisted in keeping the grounds in order, and preparing the native food after Hawaiian methods. Father Bond conducted the business affairs of the school, and held the general supervision.

It is unnecessary to state that the Principal was conscientious and faithful in the discharge of the responsibilities devolving upon her. In three years from the time of its opening there were fifty-five or sixty pupils, that being the full capacity of the accommodations. But the corps of assistants was at times inadequate, and at the close of the term in October, 1882, Miss Lyons sent in her resignation, which resulted in closing the school for a term of years.

In 1889, after fruitless endeavors through a large correspondence and the agency of friends, to secure another principal,—which may be noted as an indication that teachers for schools were not so readily available then as at the present time,—and finding that his own failing health would prevent his ever again assuming the responsibilities of such a school, Father Bond deeded the property, with the plot of ground, over four acres, on which it stood, in trust to the Hawaiian Board.

By a singular coincidence, there was at that time in Honolulu a tourist, or visitor, in the person of Miss Minerva Whittier, who, on being interviewed by the officers of the Hawaiian Board, consented to assume charge of the school, selecting her own assistants. A Board of Managers was appointed and the school re-opened April 21st, 1889. The number of pupils admitted that year was twenty-one.

The yearly cost of running this school naturally varies with the extent of buildings and repairs found necessary. Perhaps the average cost per month is $326, or about $89 a year per pupil. Fifty dollars is charged per year, but it is not to be supposed that this charge will cover the running expenses of the establishment. Perhaps about one-third of the charge for board and tuition is paid by the parents and relatives of the girls, the majority being dependent upon the benevolence of white friends.

The Endowment.—Rates of interest prevailing at the time of inception of this school were comparatively high. In 1875, a believer in education and religion as the basis of all true progress, donated the sum of $500 as a "Permanent Fund," on condition that a stipulated rate of interest be added annually to the principal for a given term of years. The interest thus accumulated has brought this original investment up to the sum of $1600. Shortly afterward the fund was increased by a donation of $100 from Rev. D. B. Lyman and a like sum from Miss E. W. Lyons, only the interest being available for use. In 1893, Hon. Charles R. Bishop donated the sum of $5000, of which only the interest, like the preceding gifts, may be expended. To this may appropriately be added the statement that the same large-hearted benefactor pays yearly for eight scholarships.

Since then an "Endowment Fund" now amounting to something over $2200, has been collected, to which Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham and Mrs. Mary (S. N.) Castle were among the largest contributors. Shortly before his death in 1909, Mr. C. M. Cooke (and wife) donated $5000, which is named the "C. M. Cooke Fund."

The school offers to girls of six years and over thorough instruction in the common English branches through the first seven years, and will fit girls for entrance into the Kamehameha School for Girls, or to the eighth grade of the Normal Practice School of Honolulu. The school also offers courses in Housekeeping, Dressmaking and Weaving.

There are now 58 or 60 girls in attendance, all that can be conveniently accommodated. The buildings have been improved and extended from time to time and are now better equipped than ever before.

The faculty at present consists of the Principal, Miss Ethel McCormick, Miss Cornelia A. Gesell, Miss Bertha Clark, Miss Annie K. Hattie, Miss Louisa H. Mana and Miss Ella L. Tanner.

Maunaolu.—Only a few echoes have reached us from this school during the year, but those that have wandered this way tell of the usual prosperity, of the assistance the girls give to the Foreign Church and Bible School by their singing, and of two charming new teachers that have been added to the efficient faculty.

The Hilo Boarding School.—A new interest and incentive to work in this old school was given by the return of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lyman from their year's absence. The year was spent, mostly, at Hampton, where they not only taught, but imbibed and collected all the newest methods of Industrial Training which they have brought back to Hilo. Also, through the generosity of a few friends they return equipped with new materials and tools for the furtherance of the work there.

A letter has been received from Charles K. Kunane, thanking the Society for his Work Scholarship. He is learning the trade of carpentering, "trying hard to learn what can be got from it," he says.

The Mid-Pacific.—A delightful gathering occurred at the Ather-ton Hall, Kawaiahao, in January, when about 150 former pupils and at least a dozen former instructors came together to form an Alumnae Association. Mrs. Irene Holloway became the President, and generous gifts were made toward improving the new grounds. The pupils of the school sang sweetly and the ceremony of crowning the 100th and 101st pupils was a pretty scene.

With the added gift of $50,000 this year the Boys' School building is nearing completion.

Lahainaluna.—This school is prospering, as usual, under the efficient leadership of Principal and Mrs. MacDonald and their corps of excellent teachers.

A matter of great interest here is the winning, by the Hawaiian Board, of the prolonged lawsuit which entitles them to $15,000 from the Territory of Hawaii, in lieu of the school property.

The College of Hawaii.—Professor Young and others of the faculty have been putting in their spare time erecting an observatory from which to view Halley's comet. The funds raised being insufficient to employ a contractor, they have nearly completed it themselves.

Oahu College.—An inter-collegiate debate was held, this year, between the College of Hawaii and Oahu College, and the Dramatic Club of Oahu College expects to give a play, "As You Like It," from Shakespeare. Among the good deeds of the Hui Pauahi Club have been sewing for Palama Settlement, supplying teachers for Sunday Schools, furnishing scrap-books and toys to the Children's Hospital, giving car-rides to the children of the Salvation Army Home, and sending flowers, magazines and readers to the hospitals.

A valuable collection of Old Masters, sixteen paintings, forming the nucleus of an Art Gallery, has been donated to Oahu College by the C. M. Cooke family, and they have asked the privilege of enlarging the Cooke Library building to supply suitable accommodations for them.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

For the sake of absent Cousins, we jot down a few of the many interesting incidents of the year,—not of the world at large, such as the discovery of the North Pole, or the success of those who would speed on the wings of the wind, but merely home happenings, such as these:

On April 6th, 1909, General Booth's birthday, $20,000 was raised by the Salvation Army of Honolulu for a Rescue Home, and on Nov. 9th the commodious building was dedicated in Manoa Valley.

On April 29th, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Carter and others gave $1,200 for a tuberculosis day camp. During the year numerous addresses have been delivered, gifts of money have been subscribed to fight the disease, W. R. Castle has donated the "Buchhultz place" in Kona for a hospital, and in April the "day camp" was formally opened, at Kalihi, on a lot near the Kaumakapili Church.

On May 10th, Vice-President Fairbanks was guest at a supper given by the Men's League of Central Union Church.

On May 14th, Judge W. L. Whitney began his duties as Circuit Judge.

May 16th was celebrated as Peace Day. On May 16 occurred the death of Former Pastor J. Walter Sylvester, in New York.

June 11th was, of course, given to Sunday-School picnics, that of Central Union being held on those ideal grounds, the Oahu College campus.

June 26th saw a tablet erected at Nuuanu Pali, celebrating the victory of Kamehameha, placed there by the Daughters of Hawaii.

June 28th saw the Sunday License revoked and intemperance somewhat checked.

In July many absent kamaainas returned.

Dr. Scudder received a call to become Secretary of the American Board, but declined.

On July 24th, a trial was made of the big guns at the fort at Diamond Head.

On August 18th, Mr. John Arundel, here for a short time on board his new vessel "Ocean Queen," gave an interesting talk at Central Union Church, about Nauru and the Delaportes. Many supplies were sent by the "Ocean Queen" to our missionaries at Nauru, but on Oct. 7, 1909, the vessel was wrecked with all supplies, but no lives lost.

On Aug. 29th, public funeral services were held for Hon. C. M. Cooke in Central Union Church.

On Sept. 6th a weather kiosk was erected at the corner of Hotel and Bishop streets.

On Sept. 7th, W. G. Irwin became the owner of the Island of Lanai, and sold it to a local company for a cotton plantation.

On Sept. 10th the Pacific Fleet arrived, held a grand reception on the 28th, and left Honolulu on Oct. 6th.

On Sept. 14th Palama's new gymnasium was dedicated.

On Oct. 1st, the lights first appeared in the new lighthouse at Makapuu Point.

From Oct. 10-18 an attempt to raise $100,000 for a new Y. M. C. A. building, to supplement a previous gift by C. M. Cooke, of $50,000, was so successful that within a week $187,737 were raised, the churches, the business men and the boys all uniting with enthusiasm for the common cause. $57,000 of this money has already been paid for the site—the block on Alakea and Hotel streets, mauka of the present Y. M. C. A. building, including the grounds of the present Library.

On Oct. 28th, the Annual Meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held, and Mrs. Whitney, its President since its organization twenty-five years ago, resigned. The resignation, however, was not accepted, and a membership in the National Association was presented to her, by the local Society, as a testimonial of the appreciation of her work here.

Nov. 12th was observed as Arbor Day by all the schools, Kamehameha Schools setting out five hundred and fifty-three trees.

On Nov. 25th, Thanksgiving Day, Kuikealani Children's Hospital was dedicated.

On Dec. 2nd, Kaimuki Improvement Club voted $5,000 for an Observatory for the telescope of the College of Hawaii.

On Dec. 4th, Governor Frear received for the Territory, $100,000 from Andrew Carnegie for a Public Library.

In December, W. H. Babbitt resigned as Superintendent of Public Instruction. In his last report he stated that 19,060 children, up to and including the eighth grade, were in the schools. Since then W. T. Pope has been appointed in his place.

On Dec. 23rd, Central Union Sunday School celebrated Christmas by the most beautiful and artistic exercise ever held in the church. It was prepared by James A. Wilder.

On Dec. 25th was held another "Malihini Christmas Tree," where thousands of little ones were made happy.

On Jan. 23rd, F. E. Clark, with other Endeavorers among the 650 American tourists on the steamer "Cleveland," stopped over for a day and addressed a large meeting at Kawaiahao Church.

On Feb. 14th the women of twenty-four societies cabled a request to Congress that women be allowed to vote for prohibition.

On Feb. 22nd the Floral Parade, under the charge of Harold G. Dillingham, surpassed all its predecessors. The number of decorated automobiles was greater, the variety of floats—one of which represented the Brig Thaddeus—was remarkable, and the imposing spectacle of the military section, made up of the battalion of the 20th Infantry from Fort Shafter, the battalion of the U. S. Marines from Camp Very, the squadron of Cavalry from Schofield Barracks, and the Kamehameha Cadets, was very impressive.

March 6th was the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Young, and on the evening of March 7th was held a grand reception in their honor at the Young Hotel.

On March 8th the House Naval Committee in Washington voted $1,500,000 for dredging the Pearl Harbor channel, and $1,000,000 toward the dry-dock construction.

On March 14th, Robert J. Burdette gave his celebrated lecture, "The Rise and Fall of the Moustache," in the Opera House, to a crowded assembly.

March 27 at Central Union, the Easter Service with its inspiring music, eloquent sermon by Dr. Scudder, and floral decorations, was made memorable by a contribution of $4325 for the American Board, besides a special contribution of $25,000 for the same worthy object.

On March 28th, beautiful Arcadia, home of Gov. and Mrs. Frear, was turned over to the children for the Easter egg-rolling.

On April 16, the Annual Meeting of Cousins took place at the Old Mission Home.

Mrs. F. J. Lowrey gave a reception to Mrs. Frank (Dr.) Day.

On April 30th, a May Day festival was held at Ainahau by the Kilohana Art Club, where the May-pole dance, crowning of the May Queen and beautiful booths transported one to fairyland.

On the evening of April 30, the Adjourned meeting of the Cousins was held at Arcadia.

The two subjects which bid fair to engross the attention of Hawaii for the summer are the fight against tuberculosis, and the prohibition campaign.

THE COUSINS.

Alexander (W. P.)—Our long-time Treasurer, Lyle A. Dickey, answers from Milan, Italy. Had the letter not been published in the January "Friend," we would give in full his description of the trip of his father and himself through Victoria, Seattle, Portland and Oakland, Chicago, various towns in Ohio, Washington, D. C., and New York; then on to Ireland, Scotland, England, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. He tells of the Sunday Schools and Christian Endeavor Societies they visited, of an airship over the cathedral at Cologne, of a walk up the Rhine river to Bin-gen, and of another walk through the snow over the Simplon Pass through the Alps, to Italy.

Mr. C. H. Dickey writes from Bethlehem, Egypt, and other points, most interesting letters. The Dickeys are expected home in May, by way of Japan.

Of Dr. W. D. Alexander's family, Miss Mary is now in Oakland, and Mr. William D. Alexander seems to have quite recovered his health in Arizona.

Mr. Henry Alexander died suddenly of heart-failure on March 23rd, 1910.

Rev. James Alexander wrote an interesting letter, part of which found its way into the October "Friend."

Mrs. Helen Alexander has gone for a much-needed rest and visit to the Coast, and Fred. Alexander has married "the sweetest girl in the world" and is located near Garibaldi, Or.

Andrews (L.)—Robert S. Andrews, son of Robert W. Andrews, after three years of tent life in California, Nevada and Hawaii, in search of health, entered the larger life of eternity on Feb. 5th, 1910.

Lorin Andrews, son of William Andrews, after an absence of about four years, has again taken up his residence in Honolulu. After serving for a time as Deputy Attorney-General, he has gone into law practice of his own.

Mrs. Maggie Hardy Dean is now visiting her father, Judge Hardy, on Kauai. Her daughter, Alice Dean, was married on Nov. 20th, 1909, to Mr. H. T. Hoskins.

Mary E. Nott, with her family, is living at 2480 Elston Ave., Oakland. A second son has arrived at the home of W. W. Nott in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Annie Brigman has received, from the Seattle Fair, another gold medal for art work. She has just been completing a collection of studies to be hung in one of the famous galleries of New York City.

Armstrong (R.)—Mrs. Wm. Scoville, Gen. S. C. Armstrong's eldest daughter, is with her husband and three children, located at Hampton, Virginia. Mr. Scoville is treasurer of Hampton Institute, and both are interested in the work of uplifting the negro race.

Mrs. Dr. Winthrop Talbot, (Edith Armstrong), is busy with her pen and her five children at Plymouth, New Hampshire. General Armstrong's youngest daughter, Margaret Marshall, will enter Vassar College in the fall, and the only son, Dan Armstrong, is preparing for Annapolis Naval Academy.

Wm. N. Armstrong's two sons, Matthew and Richard, are oyster merchants at Hampton, Virginia. Their sister Dorothy is with them. The youngest son, Morgan Kalani Armstrong, is in business at Kansas City, Mo.

Miss Jennie Armstrong is much improved in health since returning to Honolulu, to be with her sister, Mrs. Ellen A. Weaver. Mrs. Clarisse W. Boedefeld and her little son Sherman, and Mrs. Henrietta Faugre of New York, are visiting their mother at the Lunalilo Home. Mr. B. R. Banning and his aunt, Miss Amelia H. Armstrong, have a home together in Berkeley, Calif. Mrs. Millie Beckwith Hair is making herself useful in social and church work at Hamakuapoko, Maui, and faithfully mothering her four wide-awake children.

Bailey (E.)—The new year, 1910, opened to William H. Bailey the gates of the New Jerusalem, and twenty-four days later, on his sixty-seventh birthday he was there to welcome his bride of forty earthly years. Our sympathy rests with the son and daughter, Mrs. Minnie Bazata and Wm. Bailey, Jr. Mr. Edward Bailey has been quite ill, and his brother Charles has made a short trip to Honolulu and Maui. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey have made their only daughter, Caroline Hubbard, a member of this Society. She is heartily welcomed as a Cousin.

Baldwin (D.)—The Baldwin family have applied for a charter for "The Fred. Baldwin Memorial Home," to be located on Maui. It is to be a home for the sick, indigent and aged, and the charter allows it to hold property not to exceed $500,000. What a lasting monument to the young man gone home!

Charles W. Baldwin, son of D. D. Baldwin, was married July 28, 1909, to Miss Olive E. Steel of California, and we hope he will make his charming bride a Cousin.

Bingham (H.)—Mrs. Coan has had her niece, Miss Katherine L. Reynolds, as a member of her household this year, and another niece, Mrs. Lillian Crocker Brown, has spent the months of February and March with her. Mr. E. L. Mosely, writing from Sandusky, Ohio, says, "I should like sometime to see the city where my mother was born. I had thought the 'American Association for the Advancement of Science' might meet there the coming summer, but I have not seen anything of it lately."

Bishop (A.)—Mother Bishop, her life-companion gone, her eyesight gone, unable to read and write, which was her occupation and recreation, still retains her clear head and cheery, helpful ways. She is preparing a paper to be read at the Evangelical Association at Kailua, in memory of the first Mother Bishop, who was buried there, and whose death was the first in the Mission. If Mother Bishop recovers her eyesight in time, she will be one of the very few to see Halley's Comet the second time. Ruth Shaw returned in July from a trip through Europe, the culmination of her delightful stay abroad. Jessie Shaw will finish school this year. She and Juliette Cooke are together, Miss Juliette taking a course in Domestic Science, and Miss Jessie devoting herself to Art.

Bond (E.)—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bond have moved to Honolulu, and have put up a beautiful residence on Manoa Heights. Edith, (Mrs. L. A. Howard), is very happy in Hartford, settled for a time in a suite of rooms in "Highland Court." Mr. William Bond, from Fairview, Mich., dropped into town very unexpectedly in February, but will soon return, as he left his wife and three sons in Michigan.

Castle (S. N.)—Another wedding in the Castle family was solemnized on Feb. 16th, when Miss Alice Hedemann became the bride of Harold Castle amid flowers and ferns and the soft murmurs of the waves upon the beach of Waikiki.

Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt have returned from their delightful trip abroad. Mrs. Henry Castle is spending the winter at Monaco, France, with her daughter Elinor. Her mother and sister are with her. Mrs. Crockett and daughter are there, but if Mrs. C.'s health allows she will travel. Mrs. Castle will return to the Islands after another winter abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Marx will return to the Islands in July after their visit to Europe and the States. Mrs. Williams and daughter, Miss Ethelwin Castle, will return to Honolulu in November or December after a protracted stay in England and on the Continent. Mrs. George Mead (Helen Castle) is escorting a few friends through Spain, France, Italy and Germany. They will attend the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

The Castles, among their many gifts, have given the Cousins the cottage adjoining the Chamberlain house. They also donated, in December, $10,000 to the Children's Hospital.

Chamberlain (L.)—Photographs of Father Chamberlain and of his two sons, Warren, as an octogenarian, and Levi, have been received. The Chamberlain heirs are glad to have the old homestead pass into the care of the Cousins, and Aunt Mattie, if only she were able, would be delighted to attend this meeting. There are things she could tell, many things she intended to say and write in connection with this house and with her mother's life here, that were sacred memories, that she alone could place or record, and today it seems that she must wake up and talk. Dear Aunt Mattie! For years and years she carried the whole Society on her heart, and it is fitting that her first home should be the Cousins' Home.

Clark (E. W.)—Mrs. Austin writes from Nahiku that she will soon make a visit to Honolulu. To the Baldings of Hilo has come a little son, Albert Clark. Mr. Ernest Clark has returned from California with his family. Miss Bertha Clark is at Kohala Seminary, teaching.

Conde (D. T.)—Rev. Samuel Conde, D. D., writes from Los Angeles, Cal., that he moved from Cleveland, O., nearly two years ago, and notified the Secretary of the change of address, but the letter was never received. He moved because of the ill-health of his wife. His daughter Agnes is with them. Bertha still has her headquarters in New York City in connection with the National Y. W. C. A. The youngest daughter is the Religious Work Secretary of the Los Angeles Y. W. C. A. and lives at home. Dr. Conde says, "I am in my seventy-fourth year, but without a grey hair as yet and am generally strong and well in health." He sends hearty aloha to all the Hawaiian Cousins.

Cooke (A. S.)—Charles M. Cooke quietly entered into rest on Aug. 27, 1909. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George P. Cooke in September.

Mr. Frank C. Atherton has gone with his family for an extended trip abroad. Mrs. J. B. Atherton and daughter are making their annual visit abroad. Though so quietly done, it is whispered softly among the Cousins that "The Atherton family it was, who, in the name of C. U. Church, gave the Easter donation of $25,000 for the A. B. C. F. M."

Damon (S. C.)—The brilliant wedding of Violet Happer Damon, daughter of F. W. Damon, to Dr. Frank L. Putman in Central Union Church, on Nov. 23, 1909, was remarkable for its wealth of flowers, sweet music and beautiful costumes, and will long be one of memory's gilded scenes. Their home is on Kauai. Miss May Damon has returned from a long residence abroad. A little son has come to the home of Julia Damon Gifford.

Dimond (H.)—We have just heard of the marriage, in 1906, of Henry Dimond to Janet Watson, and of their daughter, Edith.

Dole (D.)—The re-appointment of Sanford B. Dole as Federal Judge was pleasing to all his many friends.

On Feb. 6th, 1910, a second son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dole, James Drummond Dole, Jr.

Emerson (J. S.)—The Smithsonian Institute is publishing, we hear, a book by Dr. N. B. Emerson called "Unwritten Literature of Hawaii." J. S. Emersin and family are on their way home from Switzerland.

Green (J.)—Frank C. Green is teacher in a technical school in Portland, Oregon. Laura Green and May Green Wilcox are doing splendid work among the Hawaiians of Honolulu. Mrs. Rhoda Green Thayer has a lovely home on Alewa Heights.

Gulick (P. J.)—Rev. Theodore W. Gulick is working among the Jews of Duluth, Minn. His son, J. Hervey Gulick, E. M., is a mining engineer at Catco, Chili, South America. His other son, Dr. Walter Vos Gulick, who married the daughter of a missionary in Japan, is in Tacoma, Wash. Dr. Gulick has two sons, one of whom arrived in February of this year.

Rev. Orramel Gulick has been ill but is again about town as busy as ever. Mrs. Thomas Gulick came to Honolulu so ill her physicians thought she must die, but the Lord seemed to work a miracle in her behalf and she is rapidly recovering. Miss Julia Gulick is hard at work among the Japanese women of Honolulu. Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick of New York has added a fifth book, "Control of Body and Mind" to his series of educational books on health. Addison Gulick, son of Dr. John Gulick, will leave Germany in August and will probably be in Honolulu for a week or two in September, and Miss Louise, his daughter, now in Massachusetts, will probably return in the Fall.

Hall (E. O.)—Mr. Seymour Hall was married Nov. 16th, 1909, to Miss Ruth Houghton. Mr. E. O. Hall and wife are about to remove to Maine. Mrs. E. A. Jones and children returned in July from Boston, and Mr. Philip Hall has come back the picture of health, and his fine tenor voice adds much to C. U. choir music. Mrs. Sarah King Roberts, of the Philippines, visited Honolulu during the Autumn.

Hitchcock (H. R.)—D. Howard Hitchcock has won fame for himself as "The Hawaiian Artist," his many landscape paintings possessing the charm of the Islands, that elusive coloring, or atmospheric condition which belongs only to Hawaii nei, and cannot be grasped by a stranger-artist, skillful though he be. We welcome from the Hitchcock family a new member, Edward Hitchcock Schoen.

Hyde (C. M.)—Mrs. C. M. Hyde is back in Ware, Mass., after a delightful summer passed in Europe, visiting Scandinavia and Russia with her son Charles. To Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Hyde has been born a little son, William McEwen Hyde.

Johnson (E.)—Miss Frances Johnson is still at "The Peninsula," where her quiet "rest cottages," Jersey cows, and fresh eggs are enough to tempt many a weary one to "bide a wee."

Judd (G. P.)—There have been three weddings in the Judd family. Rev. Henry P. Judd was married in Los Angeles, Cal., to Miss Martha Case, and brought his bride to Hawaii, where she has been traveling with him in his Sunday School work. They are to be located, for a time, in Kahului, Maui, where he will have charge of "The Union Church" of that place. Frank Hastings Wight, on Oct. 12th, married Mrs. Heilani Akana. Leslie Wight was married in January to Prof. Alfred Hurum, and is living in Germany. Mrs. A. Francis Judd and Miss Agnes have been ill, but are better. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Judd made a trip to the States and returned. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Judd have a daughter whom they name Helen for "Aunt Nellie." Mrs. Laura Wight and her daughter Ella have gone by way of Japan to visit in Germany. Our worthy former President, G. R. Carter, and family have undertaken a leisurely trip around the world, going by way of Japan, and coming back through Baltimore, where they will leave their daughter Elizabeth in school.

Mrs. Kinau Wilder's new book, "The Memoirs of Elizabeth Kinau Wilder," edited by her granddaughter, Leslie Wight, pictures the olden times, and recalls to kamaainas scenes of the long ago. Mr.

James Wilder has been showered with compliments in regard to his beautiful Christmas Carol.

Loomis (E.)—Miss May Loomis of Ypsilanti, Mich., writes a long letter telling about her grandfather and his family, giving, among other matters, the date of birth of his oldest son, as July 16, 1820, which seems to settle the disputed question, "Who was the first white child born on these Islands?"

Lyman (D. B.)—Mr. Levi Lyman and family have returned to Hilo. Dr. F. A. Lyman has moved to Denver, Colorado.

Mr. Rufus Lyman has been quite ill.

A daughter has arrived in the family of Rufus A. Lyman, Jr., and a second daughter has also blessed the home of Captain David B. Lyman of Koloa.

Lyons (L.)—Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lyons are still among the "Shut Ins," but they are not half so badly off as they might be, for if ever there was sunshine in human form they have it in their daughter Emma. Miss Fidelia Lyons is in Honolulu, and Mr. and Mrs. Hay are at Myrtle Point, Coos Co., Oregon. Miss Lucia Lyons remains at the same station in China, and her parents and brother are in Detroit.

Paris (J. D.)—Miss Anna Paris wrote from Washington, D. C., but expected to return to Brooklyn in April, where she is supposed to be spending the winter. The winter has been severe and she has been ill, but is better. She had just seen "the wonderful statue of 'Grief,' by St. Gaudens, in the cemetery,—a huge figure in bronze—wonderful—and by itself enough to immortalize him." Miss Paris says that Mrs. Green, her sister, is still connected with the Chinese mission in San Francisco, Cal., and is very busy.

Rice (W. H.)—Mother Rice is a little more frail and not able to see many visitors, but she is still able to work and pray for the Hawaiians. When she heard that the natives were not quite satisfied with the beautiful Union Church, and did not feel at home there, she said, "What can be done about repairing the old building?" When the old building was renovated and enlarged, she wanted to know the hour of their first meeting, that she might "be in touch with them." During the meeting of the Kauai Evangelical Association at Lihue, Mother Rice was taken, in an automobile, to the church door. The Association immediately adjourned, and gathered in a body near Mother Rice, where they greeted her all around, and sang two of her favorite hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Even the women preparing the noonday meal left their work and sang, "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us." Largely through her gifts, also, a hall for Sunday School and Christian Endeavor has been erected at Kapaa.

Mrs. Mary Waterhouse Rice has had her eyes treated by a specialist, and hopes to retain the sight of one of them. Two new members have joined the Society from the Rice family, namely Mrs. G. H. De La Vergne, and Paul Kennedy, son of Paul F. De La Vergne. We welcome them to membership.

Richards (W.)—Miss Julia Edwards Porter, of Hastings, Minn., has become a member of our Society. She is a granddaughter of Julia Maria Richards, and also a lineal descendant through an unbroken line of eldest children from the first child of Jonathan Edwards.

Rowell (G. W.)—News comes to us that Herbert Stolz, of Stanford University, son of Dr. Mary Rowell Stolz, is a candidate for the Rhodes Scholarship at Oxford, England.

Shipman (W.)—Oliver Shipman, eldest son of W. H. Shipman, was married in Oakland June 7th, to Miss Alice L. Aspelin. There are five daughters and two sons in this family, and two sons and a daughter in Mr. Oliver Shipman's family, whom we would love to welcome as Cousins. There is also a granddaughter, Margaret Clarissa English, born Sept. 24, 1907, who should be a member of the H. M. C. Society. Living in the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shipman is Mr. Alexander Stobie, brother of "Mother Reed," who has just passed his eighty-sixth birthday. Margaret Shipman is spending a year at Dana Hall.

Smith (L.)—The very latest news recorded in this Annual Report is the marriage, in Florence, Italy, of our new Vice-President, Walter F. Dillingham, to Miss Louise Gaylord of Chicago.

Governor and Mrs. Walter F. Frear, in their wise, just, efficient and tactful manner, have devoted themselves to the good of the Territory, to society, to education and to benevolence. One of the most far-reaching acts of Gov. Frear is perhaps the effecting of an amendment to the organic act by which small owners may have their lands secured to them, and property may be opened up to settlement. While in Washington for this purpose, he called upon Andrew Carnegie and cabled home a gift from him of $100,000 for a Public Library.

Arcadia, the artistic home of the Governor, is ever open to the people, to clubs, to societies and organizations and to the children.

The H. M. C. Society may well congratulate itself upon furnishing Hawaii with such a Chief Executive, as well as with his honored and efficient predecessors—all Cousins.

Smith (J. W.)—Hon. W. O. and Mrs. Smith are planning a trip to Europe this summer, where they will visit their son Clarence. Their son, Lorrin K. Smith, is at the University of Illinois, where he is taking a special course in agriculture.

Mr. A. H. Smith met with a serious automobile accident, but is recovering.

Thurston (A.)—Alice Kluegel, daughter of Mary (Taylor-Thurston) Kluegel, passed away on Aug. 11th, in California, after three years of illness. May Kluegel is a teacher at the Normal School, and Mary Winne is teaching at Punahou. Jane Winne is spending a year in Oakland in a school of music, where she is fitting herself for more effective teaching of chorus work.

Robert Thurston is expected home this summer, from the University of Louisiana.

Tinker (R.)—Mr. Leon F. Harvey is welcomed to the Cousins Society as a new member.

Wetmore (C. H.)—Mrs. Catherine Wetmore Deacon writes to announce the birth of a little granddaughter, Katherine Wetmore Deacon, on Sept. 19, 1909. She also points out an error in the Annual Report of 1908, page 40, where Mrs. Deacon's (Miss Florence L. Thrall) name is spelled with an o instead of a. We gladly rectify the error.

Whitney (S)—Mrs. W. W. Goodale leaves shortly for the mainland. Mrs. Helen (Whitney) Kelly was released from her frail body on April 4th and went to rest.

Wilcox (A.)—Charles Henry Wilcox son of S. W. Wilcox, was married on July 5th, to Miss Marion Waterhouse and settled down on Koloa plantation.

On Jan. 14th, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilcox have been the promoters of the Children's Hospital, dedicated on Thanksgiving day, and G. N. Wilcox has added another $50,000 to his previous gift of $55,000 to the Mid-Pacific Institute. Mr. S. W. Wilcox has made his son-in-law and three grand-children members of this society this year.

Beckwith—Cards have been received, announcing the marriage in Sept., of Miss Ruth Beckwith to Rev. Amasa Archibald Bullock. They have since arrived at the Pres. Mission, Nanking, China.

Holmes Beckwith was married on June 22nd, in Berkeley, to Miss Frances Robinson, daughter of Rev. Robinson of Berkeley. Mr. Beckwith is at Columbia University, New York City, preparing for special mission work.

Bowen—Mr. W. A. and Mrs. Bowen left in March for a trip through the States and Europe. Mr. Spencer Brown, their only son, will, after his graduation in June, and after a European tour, return to Honolulu and do settlement work at Palama.

Miss H. E. Carpenter is greatly interested in the gift of the Chamberlain house to the Cousins, for it was in this house she did her last work for Hawaiian girls. Miss Carpenter spends summers in her own home at West Woodstock, Conn., but during the winters she resides in the city. Her aloha for Hawaii is very great.

Mrs. W. F. Allen, though herself a "shut-in," remembers the sick, and scatters gladness and good-cheer in many ways, one of her late gifts being $100 for the repairs on the Chamberlain House.

Among the precious "shut-ins" who love us, and whom we dearly love are Mrs. Sophie Pratt, Mrs. Sarah Gilman, and Aunt Nellie Judd. May richest blessings rest upon them.

Miss Margaret Flaxman and her sister left in April for a prolonged stay in bonnie Scotland.

Mrs. Frances A. L. Church has just written of the death of her only daughter, Mrs. Louie Marian Conklin, on March 26, 1909, at Grants Pass, Oregon, and that of a grandchild, nearly a year old, on Jan. 16, 1910. Mrs. Church says she now has six grand-children, two in each family. She is greatly interested in the Cousin's Society.

This list is not complete. We had hoped to have, at least one item of news from each mission family and adopted Cousin, and we ask, for the coming year, more help in filling out this roll-call which keeps us in touch with one another.

IN MEMORIAM.

“And friends, dear friends, when it shall be
 That this low breath is gone from me,
 And round my bier ye come to weep,
 Let one, most loving of you all,
 Say, ‘Not a tear shall o’er her fall,’
 He giveth His beloved sleep.’”

Away in tropical Nauru, little Frank Gustave Delaporte, still ‘trailing clouds of glory,” and babbling sweet messages of love, folded his little hands and slept.

Alice Kluegel in the grace and beauty of young womanhood, with joyous schoolmates about her, dearest home friends to cherish her, and a happy future holding her with detaining hand, grew tired of the struggle for life. Upon the Sierra mountains she spent her last years, where the air was fresh and sweet, the wild flowers blossomed, and singing birds and playful squirrels came to her doorstep; and there, with trained hands to minister to her, near to nature and to nature’s God, she fought her battle and won the rest and the Home greeting on the other side.

Lottie Lee (Hartwell) Chater, the young wife and mother, fell asleep as she reached the summit of joy, leaving behind to her many friends, the memory of a charming personality, a sweet and cultured voice, and to her bereaved husband, a dear little baby boy.

C. M. Cooke, with his rare business ability and financial insight, planned for the night, and before he slept made, perhaps, his best investments, both when he lent vast sums to the Lord, and when he imbued his children with a desire to forward Immanuel’s cause.

How welcome the sleep must be to these business men. Year after year their lives are spent in calculations of stocks and bonds, percentages and investments, loss and gain, how to gather and how to give, till weary of it all, they are ready to rest from their labors and sleep the sleep of the beloved.

Gorham D. Gilman, young at the age of eighty-seven, with his large-hearted love for Hawaii, his active participation in his country's service and work in his city's government, a Sunday School teacher and Y. M. C. A. worker, on October 3, 1909, laid his labors and his honors at his Master's feet, and accepted the invitation to enter into rest.

Rev. Capt. Walkup, brave and faithful to the end, his small boat buffeted by the waves, in loneliness upon the tropic sea, in hunger, thirst and disappointment, must have seen that small island of Ebon as the arm of God stretched out to rest him, and sank peacefully into its clasp, to sleep.

Mrs. Caroline H. (Rogers) Deming, many years absent from her native land, longed oftentimes for its peaceful shores and the friends of her youth. But the Paradise to which she has gone is lovelier far, the friends of long ago are mostly gathered there, and that is home. A little sorrowing, a little suffering, a little sleep, and then—Home, friends, Jesus, glory!

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bailey, for forty years walked through life together, with wealth, friends, home, children—all these and God's love—and surely life for them was sweet. But sickness came, and night, and they left it all. Mr. Bailey went first, on New Year's Day, and Mrs. Bailey not knowing that she had been alone, on Jan. 24th, his earthly birthday, awoke to the dawn of eternal day, to meet him there and receive his welcome into heaven.

Robert S. Andrews was young, intelligent, faithful, efficient, quiet and brave, a loving son and brother, a true friend and a strong arm to lean upon. But during the months and years when strength was slowly wasting away, his courage, his patience, his cheerfulness and his thoughtfulness for those about him have proved beyond a doubt that he himself leaned upon the everlasting arm and trusted God for that which only He could give, the breath of life—life everlasting. And so he fell asleep.

Mr. Henry Alexander, loved, respected and honored by all, dropped asleep as quietly as a tired child. Failing in health, he and his devoted wife had planned a rest from business and a quiet life in Honolulu. The plans were all complete, when the messenger came and bore him by a nearer way, to a perfect rest in heaven.

Mrs. Helen (Whitney) Kelley's way became silent and long, and she waited patiently for the sleep that has come. With mind of rare culture, with fingers deft, with a beautiful character mirrored in a beautiful face, she seemed fitted for joy; but trial came to purify the gold, and though sweetened by loving care and friends, the weary hours dragged on. Then in the silence came the loving message, "Daughter, arise, He calleth thee."

Among those who are not members we would mention.

Rev. Samuel Kauwealoha, sent out from Hawaii and for fifty-six years a consistent Christian and missionary to the Marquesas. He went to rest July 26, 1909, at the age of eight-five.

Mr. William Paty, for a time an annual member of this Society, fell asleep in Jesus, Sept. 28, 1909. Almost the last work he did was on the repairs of this Old Mission Home, and only because he was faithful, patient, loving, conscientious and true, it was made possible for us to hold these meetings here. Faithful in that which is least, he is faithful now in much.

Rev. J. Walter Sylvester, D. D., recently pastor of Central Union Church, passed away at Wilton, New Hampshire, May 16, 1909. We are reminded of a hymn he wrote for Easter while an invalid in Honolulu.

"I stand amid the thronging fears
 Unmoved by any shape of dread;
 Through all the conflict of the years
 I know the way that I am led;
 Dauntless I walk, as one who hears
 That Christ is risen from the dead."

And it is because "Christ has risen from the dead" that we dare imagine heaven as the place where all our hopes may be realized, where beauty, music, art and eloquence shall fill the soul, where there will be time to enjoy it all, and where our dear ones may help the Lord in preparing the "mansions" for His beloved, in flashing wireless messages, in financeering his beautiful plans for the universe, and in busying themselves in thousands of glad ways. How could we call them away from such bliss only to comfort our lonely hearts.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The Annual Meeting was held at 3 P. M., on April 16, 1910, at the Old Mission Home, and was of unusual interest.

It was called to order by Vice-President A. B. Clark. Rev. O. H. Gulick voiced the prayer, and Mrs. E. A. Weaver led in singing the old hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love."

An address by A. B. Clark told of the gift of the Chamberlain House, and pictured it as it is to be, with its large Assembly Hall, kitchen and fireplace below; and above, the Library and Hall of mementos, where relics of the missionaries will be preserved and tabulated.

He told of the Forbes lot, which had been presented by the Castle family, and suggested that the house might be arranged to accommodate missionaries over night when passing through Honolulu; and especially how Kawaiahao Lane might be straightened, and part of the grounds given to the cemetery, upon which a columbarium might be erected. It seemed exceedingly desirable to do this because of the unsettled condition of the title to the cemetery, W. O. Smith explaining the peculiar wording of the title, and the need of preparing for emergencies.

The Treasurer's report was read by R. E. Bond, a financial report of the Trust Fund by C. H. Cooke, and the Secretary's report.

The officers were elected, J. P. Cooke being unanimously chosen President, W. F. Dillingham Vice-President, Mrs. R. W. Andrews Secretary, and Lyle A. Dickey, Treasurer.

R. W. Andrews moved that Charles R. Bishop be made an honorary member of the Society, and F. W. Damon, after a very eulogistic speech remarked that one who had done so much for the Hawaiian people, and whose benevolences had been so broad, would be an honor to the Society, and he believed that Mr. Bishop would also feel it an honor to himself to be made a member. The vote was unanimous.

Dr. N. B. Emerson suggested a change in the size and shape of the Annual Report. This was referred to the Board of Managers.

The new President, J. P. Cooke, then took the chair and the literary program followed.

A quartette from Kaiulani Home sang sweetly, two songs, "Beautiful Land of Somewhere," and "Wonderful Message they Bring," and a long interesting and valuable paper, written by Mr. Warren Chamberlain at the age of eighty years, was read by his son, Rev. Horace Chamberlain.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the donors of this valuable property, to Mr. Chamberlain for his interesting paper, and to Mrs. W. F. Allen who has already responded to the call and given $100 for the repairs on the Chamberlain House.

A. B. Clark moved that a committee be appointed to raise money; first, for the refitting of the Chamberlain House; second, for changes in the Cottage; and third for a monument in memory of the missionaries.

The meeting was closed by singing, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains.

As for the decorations, it would be hard to imagine those bare walls transformed as they were to a bower of beauty by the skill of Mrs. Weaver and her daughter.

THE ADJOURNED MEETING.

This delightful gathering of Cousins was held at Arcadia, the home of Gov. and Mrs. Frear, on the evening of April 30th, 1910. The President and Vice-President being out of town, the meeting was presided over by W. W. Hall. Rev. O. H. Gulick led in prayer, and two verses of "Blest be the Tie" were sung.

The names of the Missionaries on board the "Thaddeus" were read by A. B. Clark from the "Missionary Album," and as he finished reading, a number of young people, dressed in the style of 1820, came slowly down the broad stairway, and after joining in a verse of "Greenland's Icy Mountains," seated themselves on the steps.

Miss Reynolds, a grand-daughter of Father and Mother Bingham played a piano solo, "A Storm at Sea," in which you heard the dashing of the waves upon the deck, and almost felt the heaving and surging of the little boat upon their crests.

Mrs. Winne, grand-daughter of Father and Mother Thurston, read from a journal written on board the "Thaddeus," of the partings, the seasickness, the calms and long delays, the improvement of their time, rough weather and of the celebration of Christmas Day.

Miss Reynolds read of storms, of the rounding of Cape Horn, of the first sight of land, of ships in the distance and whales near by, and again terrific storms, and through it all a spirit of love and trust and consecration.

Mrs. Westervelt's artistically rendered "Arabesque" from Schumann seemed to take us away from the storms and dangers and out upon the broad Pacific. We were then ready to listen to a continuation of the journal.

Mrs. Ranney Scott, a great-grand-daughter of Father and Mother Whitney read of rapid progress, of searchings of heart, of adventures with a shark, the falling overboard of Mr. Whitney, and of the arrival at the Sandwich Islands, where beautiful scenery and good news of idolatry overthrown greeted their arrival.

It was voted that these papers be printed in The Friend.

A collection was taken up, amounting to $14.40.

Dr. Emerson told a shark story in connection with the voyage of the Averick.

Mrs. Coan spoke of the inconveniences of these little barks which were not built for passengers, but quarters were partitioned off in the hold where only deck lights dispelled the darkness, and where freight was piled so closely that a foot could not reach the floor without touching boxes.

Rev. O. H. Gulick noticed particularly the reverent spirit displayed all through the journal, a spirit different from that we now see. Dr. Emerson said such expressions would now be called pompous, put on, almost hypocritical, but Mrs. Dillingham explained that the missionaries lived in an atmosphere of revival, they were always the same—it was the purpose of their lives to save souls.

Many questions were asked as to where this valuable journal came from, and why no one knew of its existence before. Mr. Andrews responded that it came into the possession of the society about a year ago through Dr. W. D. Alexander who rescued it from the archives of the Hawaiian Board, and that it was supposedly written by Mr. Loomis.

A. C. Alexander spoke of a journal kept by Capt. Hunnewell, mate on the Thaddens at this time. Mrs. Gulick told of a journal kept by her parents. Dr. Emerson had his father's journal and Mrs. Weaver had one, written by her father.

Rev. O. H. Gulick moved that all these journals and others be sent in to the Recorder to be kept in a fireproof vault. It was so voted.

Besides the three pioneer families represented at this meeting a letter has lately arrived from the Loomis family which was printed in part in the April Friend.

The meeting was closed by singing the last verse of "Greenland's Icy Mountains" and the benediction, pronounced by Dr. J. H. Gulick.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF MEMORIAL FUND.

On October 18th, 1909, a deed was executed by Martha A. Chamberlain and the Lyman Heirs to the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for 19,434 square feet on the corner of Mission Lane and King Street between the Kawaiahao Church and the Old Mission Home, being a portion of the Old Chamberlain Homestead, and this deed was recorded on Oct. 29 in Vol. 319, pages 346-349, consideration being $12,000.

Thus the entire frontage on Church Street, now called King, from the original Mission Home to Kawaiahao Church including the Old Coral Chamberlain residence passes in fee simple to the Cousins' Society as a Memorial of the Sandwich Island Mission.

This was consummated through the generosity of the Chamberlain Heirs, the sons of C. M. Cooke in his memory, and B. R. Banning by the following donations, viz.:—

Martha A. Chamberlain	$ 666.67
Levi T. Chamberlain	666.67

	$12,500.00

This will leave $500 for the expense of the transfer and to put the grounds in suitable condition, as well as plans for the final restoration of the building, which will be accounted for by the Trustees.

The Abstract of Title and Deed of this property is filed at the Hawaiian Trust Company, Ltd., with the lease of the Old Mission Home, dated July 1st, 1907, which was signed by C. M. Cooke, but not acknowledged nor recorded. Also Fire Insurance Policy for $2,000 expiring April 5th, 1910.

In connection with the foregoing real estate the Society owns a lot near Pearl City, deed for which was filed by Treasurer Dickey at the Society's office in care of Recorder Andrews. This deed is recorded in Vol. 315, pages 440, and covers lot 14, block 40, which came to the Society through W. R. Castle, Trustee of the Bond Missionary Fund.

It is perhaps as well to report for the purpose of record, the Assets of the Society in its various Funds:

Now, therefore, know ye that I, the said Alexander J. Campbell, as such Treasurer as aforesaid, and by and with the consent of the Governor of the Territory and in the exercise and execution of every power and authority in any wise enabling me in this behalf, do hereby constitute the members of the said association a body corporate under the name of The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for the term of fifty years for the purposes aforesaid with power by that name in their corporate capacity to sue and be sued, to adopt and use a seal and the same to alter at pleasure, to take, purchase, receive, hold, sell and convey such real and personal estate as the purposes of the corporation shall require, not exceeding in the whole sum the value of $100,000.00 and to mortgage the same to secure

The property of the said corporation shall alone be liable for payment of its debts and liabilities.

In witness whereof I hereby set my hand and official seal this 10th day of August, A. D. 1907.

(Signed) A. J. CAMPBELL,
Treasurer Territory of Hawaii.

I hereby consent to the granting of the foregoing Charter this 14th day of August, A. D. 1907.

LIFE MEMBERS OF THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY, 1910.

SYMBOLS IN THE LIST OF MEMBERS.

Original members of the Society, whether children of missionaries or elect members, have their names printed in the usual manner. The names of their children are preceded by one star, and those of children's children by two stars.

In many cases the name is preceded by a symbol in the margin, which denotes the person's missionary parentage or ancestry; and the key to the symbols is the list below, in which the missionary names are given, but no titles.

NOTICE

We desire to call attention of all who have the birthright privilege of being members of the Society, but are not yet enrolled as such, to the latter half of Article 3 of the By-Laws, whereby they can become certified members by easy annual payments. We should like to enroll as fellow members all the descendants of the "Sandwich Islands" missionaries.
